Coaching Network

Coaches play a vital role in supporting educators to better serve our students. Effective instructional coaches inspire and encourage those in their midst, fostering continual improvement in educational practices. Join a network of coaches, each of whom are committed to learning together through action research grounded in improvement science principles. Topics explored will include:

- Protocols for building relationships and navigating tough conversations
- Techniques for inclusive coaching practices to serve all educators and students
- Systems for effective feedback and follow-up
- Strategies for collecting evidence of coaching effectiveness

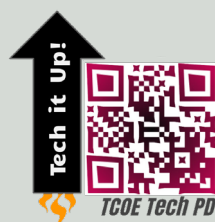

Build your professional network, refine your craft, and develop your capacity to impact the educators and students you serve.
