Comment: Cross Country Coach Kornelis says, “Jacob has been a dedicated cross country runner for the past four years. He has grown into an outstanding leader on the team who is not only relentlessly striving to better himself but also constantly providing encouragement and support to everyone else on the team. He has dedicated himself to his training, which has led to dramatic improvement over the years. His challenging course load has not interfered with his dedication to cross country, and despite having a busy and rigorous schedule, he is always willing to help out others who are in need of encouragement or advice. He has taken the younger members of the team under his wing and he is certainly making an impact on the quality of leaders we will have on future teams. I am immensely proud of the runner and leader Jacob has become and the team would not be the same without him.”
