2024 TECH RODEO

Join us at the Tulare County Office of Education's seventh annual Tech Rodeo! Experience a full day of diverse professional learning, tailored for educators at all grade levels and content areas. Our immersive, in-person event, inspired by CUE Rockstar's dynamic approach, ensures no attendee misses any session. Engage in innovative experiences crafted for today's classrooms and learners.

Join Kami's Teacher Success Champion Steve Martinez, a Central Valley native, as he highlights the power of Universal Design for Learning (UDL) in the classroom. Discover collaborative, accessible approaches and the benefits of UDL, emphasizing engagement, representation, and action and expression. Explore pedagogical strategies like design thinking, the Jigsaw Method, and student podcasting, prioritizing teaching and learning. Expect in-depth discussions on ISTE standards and global collaboration!

Join Ann Kozma, Educator Innovation Lead on Team Flip at Microsoft, for a Flip Cam Creativity Jam at the Tech Rodeo. Unleash student engagement and creativity with Flip cameras, enhancing literacy skills through the power of listening and speaking with video. Discover ways to empower your learners and explore editing effects to showcase student achievements!

Joe Marquez, a proud Central Valley native, understands the diverse student needs in this region. Learn to craft prompts for Generative AI tools, ensuring personalized learning experiences for all students. Discover how AI can give teachers more time back and expedite workflow. Engage in interactive activities to explore the power of Generative AI and Prompt Engineering, sparking creativity and solidifying your knowledge. Get ready for an exciting adventure in the world of Generative AI - it's bound to be a blast!

Jon Corippo, a Central Valley native and author of The Eduprotocols Field Guide Books 1 and 2, empathizes with educators' challenges. In 1999, he transformed his teaching approach using his business, tech, and coaching background for outstanding results. Jon will present 5+ actionable protocols for any subject, any grade. Join Jon for a career-altering hour. Doubtful? Testimonials from veteran educators prove the effectiveness of Eduprotocols. Seize this opportunity to reduce your workload and enhance your impact.
