

English Learner Roadmap Power in Collaboration Across California

English Language Development In Person Institute

The English Language Arts and English Language Development (ELD) Framework calls for integrating language development within the context of science and social studies standards. Using examples from the Sobrato Early Academic Language Model, participants will be immersed in strategies to provide English Learners with ELD related to Next Generation Science Standards science themes and the social studies framework. Activities include watching videos from classrooms and learning about how to use language functions and graphic organizers to bridge Integrated and Designated ELD. We will closely examine how to plan for Designated ELD in a manner that both prepares students for content as well as responds to their individual linguistic needs.
